- ULYSSES 31: Season 1, episode 24: Strange Meeting (1982)

An odd but reasonably faithful representation of Odysseus' nostos if you can accept the mad premise of this cartoon series. Useful for teaching Homer's suspense.

Documentary examining Homer's hero, suggesting theories for some of his encounters and possible geographic locations for his wanderings. Quite good.

- “ITHACA” by Constantinus Kavafy narrated in Greek

An excerpt from the Greek film “Cavafy”. If you give a class the poem in translation of the poem (available here: <http://www.cavafy.com/poems/content.asp?id=74&cat=1> ) it gives students a sense of the mystical sound of the Greek language

News report about Robert Bittlestone’s controversial theory that the peninsula of Palaki on Kefalonia is in fact Homer’s Ithaca – based on the discrepancy in the Odyssey concerning the geographic location of Odysseus’ island, a suggestion of Strabo’s and petrographic analysis from core drilling Bittlestone claims he has evidence to prove a literal prehistoric seismic cover-up.
